Island or San Juan.—This locality, which is still a sort of neutral ground between England and the United States, is said to be the best sheep-raising country on the Pacific coast, and many of the residents have accumulated fine fortunes at the business. But what has contributed most largely to their prosperity is the happy circumstance of so many of them being of English extraction, paternal or otherwise, they pay no taxes whatever; whether excise duties or taxes for their own use. Hence, those people have nothing to do but to raise whatever they can to the best advantage, and sell it for the highest price that will command; and such is their stupid perversity that they are most illogically happy and prosperous.

A Oakbank.—The Sydney Morning Herald of the 10th of August last stated that the Committee of the Balmoral Regatta had made arrangements for an international four-oar boat race, to take place in November, 1873, and had issued a challenge to the American Communications to be sent to the Admiralty, the principal port of England, requesting that crew may be sent to compete with the Australian crew in the race. The Committee offered £1000 to defray the expenses of an American crew, and a like sum for the expense of an English crew. The prize to be awarded for will be a trophy valued at £250.

General.—Mr. Richardson's collection of geological specimens, fossils, etc., gathered during the past four months on the coast, and islands, from Nasau to Queen Charlotte Island, were on exhibition; those who have learned anything to do with the origin of the species took a lively interest in the specimen, which already reported the A.O. Delegation at Ottawa last year.

Norman McLeod's Sculpture.—The Queen has been pleased to present to the Rev. John Marshall, head of the church and parson of Glasgow, in the Presbytery of Glasgow and county of Lanark, a gift of £1000 in memory of Dr. Norman McLeod. Mr. Lang, we believe is brother of Mr. Ling formerly of this city.

Swartz.—The Mayor and Council were sworn in yesterday before Chief Justice Begbie. His Lordship congratulated the new Council and hoped it would prove competent to deal with the important questions which would most likely come under its jurisdiction during the ensuing year.

For New Westminster.—The Enterprise called for New Westminster, yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock. She had on board 20 head of cattle, and the following passengers: Messrs. Webster, George Brown, Burrard, Capt. Eliot.

The New Theatre.—Mrs. Corrill's Vandeleur troupe gave an excellent performance again last night to a fair audience. This evening, it is ready to open to the ordinary course of trustees that visit us, and they merit a good share of public patronage. Mr. Mrs. Corrill manipulates the boxes in a wonderful manner, and last night every member of the troupe is excellent. To-night the programme will be considerably changed, and the versatility of the Company will no doubt show to great advantage.

For the South.—The steamer North Pacific left at 10:15 o'clock, yesterday morning, for the Sound and west ports. She had on board quite a good number of passengers, amongst whom were Miss Garretson and Miss Zool, who are on their way to join "the great Vivian" at Portland. Mr. Corrill and his two trained steers were also on board, together with about 100 tons of freight.

Our Resources.—Mr. Pemberton has written from England to the Ottawa Citizen, asking for a copy of the Hon. Mr. Langevin's report on British Columbia, the merits of which he speaks of in very high terms, and adds, that if it could be bought in London the sale would be very considerable and much good would be done by its circulation.

Aurora.—We call attention to the large assortment of miscellaneous goods, furniture, guns, sewing machines, wall paper, stores, engravings, ladies' clothing and other goods, to be sold this day at the saleroom of Messrs. J. P. Davies & Co., Wharf street. For full particulars see advertisement.

The Lord Macdonald.—The members of the St. Andrew Society, San Francisco, attended the funeral of the late Mr. Jamieson, from the residence of Mr. Moffat, 706, Hayes street. Everything that could be done to aid the deceased in all his trials was done by kind friends.

Apothecary.—The Hudson Bay Company have a vessel on the stocks in London for this port; it makes the north vessel the Company has for the route between this port and London. The ship will sail from the docks about the first of December.

Dunn.—Walter Dunn, an old pioneer of the Province is just deceased, leaving his little children in a deplorable condition. A kind-hearted person who went into the house found the poor little things actually impaling the dead parent for bread.

The Poor-Saint-Nicolas.—The congeant match between the Navy and Civilians will take place next Saturday at Victoria Hill, at 8 p.m. The money raised will be used to assist the poor in Europe.

The Suicide of Mr. Justice Willes.

A painful suicide last night was reported in London yesterday that Mr. Justice Willes had shot himself at his residence Osterley, near Watford, was confirmed later in the day by the dictation of the Rev. Mr. G. H. Williams, according to whom his lordship had been for several years in failing health; he had long been afflicted with heart disease, which had been aggravated within the last three years severe attacks of gout. The labours of his judicial office, coming upon a weak frame and a morbid temperament, seem to have overpowered his brain. He is said to have been for some weeks past irritable, absent, strange in his ways, and palpably suffering from loss of memory. His spirits were depressed, and he complained of pain in his head, especially in the evenings. He shot himself through the heart in his bedroom on Wednesday morning. A verdict of "temporary insanity" was returned. Mr. Justice Willes was born at Cork in 1814, and was raised to the bench, in the Court of Common Pleas, in 1855.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Sir Francis Drake's new residence in Montreal.—This handsome building, which has been in course of construction for the past three months and is intended to be completed in the early part of next spring, is pleasantly situated at the corner of St. Antoine and Dominion-streets, facing the residences of Judge Counsel and Henry Judah. It is of cut-stone, 50 feet square and four stories with a basement, including a conservatory, library, dining-room and drawing-room. The floor of the hall is to be laid with marble of different colours. The second story consists of a spacious landing, sleeping apartments and bath room. The apartments are large and well ventilated, and will be warmed by hot water heated by a furnace in the basement. The building has an imposing appearance, and is in the modern Italian style with English windows.
